PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Once again this year, it is my pleasure to provide an introduction to the 2022-2023 Yearbook for Maritime Christian College (MCC).

This past year was a milestone for MCC in quite a few areas. We were gratified to be able to launch our new graduate program, the Master of Arts in Disciple Making and Ministry Leadership, with a strong cohort of students. If you look at the addresses for the students in the Masters program, you will also see there is a lot of diversity in geographic location. This is one of the most significant benefits of having an online program – students can study the material online from wherever their home is, and yet can still be connecting in digital discussion groups.

Another milestone of this past year was having our first graduates from our online Certificate programs launched in September 2020. Congratulations to our first two graduates with their Disciple Making Certificate, Nancy Jones and Olanrewaju Williams.

Although Maritime Christian College's physical location in Charlottetown, PEI has been around for 60 years, it has rarely seen a major weather event like hurricane Fiona in September 2022. The main building itself sustained only minor damage, but there were a large number of trees that were toppled, and it took nearly a week to restore electricity to the campus. Clean-up took several months and wasn't completed until April 2023.

Most people have to move to a new home only a few times during their lifetime. This was the case for Maritime Christian College in 2022-2023. The campus location at 503 University Avenue had been owned by MCC since 1993. As MCC's focus turned towards online learning and supporting students in many different locations around the world, owning and operating a large building with most of the space dedicated to housing students didn't make a lot of economic sense, and the Board of Directors made the decision in 2022 to put the property up for sale. A well-respected local development firm purchased the property and the closing date on the sale was May 1, 2023.

Maritime Christian College is now leasing office space in our new location at Sherwood Christian Church in Charlottetown. The photos in this yearbook only give you a glimpse of the huge amount of work for the MCC staff and our valued volunteer helpers to clean out our old location and relocate into the new office space. I am very grateful for the team involved in the relocation effort!

I trust you will find this 2022-2023 Yearbook a valuable reminder of your individual and collective experience of being part of Maritime Christian College.

Richard Jones
President

Why did you choose to take classes at MCC?

I chose to take classes at Maritime Christian College because I wanted to learn more about Jesus and disciple making, and because the classes were offered on-line.

I see MCC as the kingdom of God here on earth with classes that center on Disciple and Disciple making which is the core mission of the Head of the church (Jesus Christ).

How will you use the knowledge and practical experience gained?

I plan to continue my discipling efforts at The Harbour [Christian Church], helping others trust and follow Jesus so that they, too, can step out in faith to disciple others.

This knowledge shall be practically used to make disciples for the glory of God.

The background of the image is an abstract, textured composition of various shades of teal and blue. The texture is dense and fibrous, resembling a microscopic view of a material or a close-up of a fabric. The colors transition from a deep, dark blue at the top to a lighter, more vibrant teal at the bottom. The overall effect is a rich, layered visual field.

HURRICANE FIONA

On September 23-24, 2022 hurricane Fiona ripped across Prince Edward Island. Considering all the damage across the Island, MCC fared well. A couple of cracked windows, some water damage, and several trees knocked down in the front and back yards, including the old apple tree on the south end of the parking lot which fell into the exit. The white fence on both sides of the building along with the retaining wall cap on the south side were destroyed, and a piece of siding over the entryway was stripped off.

MCC was one of the over 80,000 customers who lost power. MCC's power was restored after 3 days and phone and internet access was restored 7 days after the storm. Some Island residents waited at least 3 weeks to have their power restored. Over 260 crews were out working to repair lines and at least 488 damaged poles.

There were 22 UPEI and Collège de l'Île residents living at MCC. While they had no power the residents made the best of it and cooked over the firepit in the back yard!

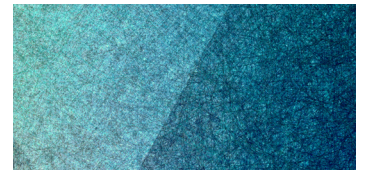

Jonathon Nicholson and David Nicholson did some clearing of trees including the apple tree by the exit. Front yard branches were piled and taken as part of the roadside clean-up for businesses and residents. In November Tim Cook and Joel Crouse cut up and piled the trees down in the back yard.

In April a local company was hired to remove logs and brush from the backyard.

NEW LOCATION

Early in 2022 the MCC Board of Directors made the decision to seek expressions of interest from several highly qualified property development organizations in Atlantic Canada about a potential purchase of the 503 University Avenue property.

All MCC programs and courses had moved to online and there were no MCC students living in the building anymore - the building was being filled with UPEI and Holland College residents to try to cover the building operating expenses.

In July MCC's Board of Directors approved an agreement to sell the property to one of these developers, The Gray Group, subject to the successful clearance of several conditions on the sale, which was completed in December 2022 and the closing date was set for May 1, 2023.

A rental location was found that would meet the MCC office needs going forward at Sherwood Christian Church, 9 Lilac Avenue in Charlottetown, PE. The new location consists of three rooms located downstairs at Sherwood Christian Church. A main room for an office/conference room, a file/storage room and a library/archive room.

Then came the job to downsize at 503 University Avenue and organize how the new location at 9 Lilac Avenue would look and work.

Files and books were sorted and many boxes were packed. Items no longer needed were moved to the chapel for sales.

We were able to get work done to the rooms at the new location - painting, flooring, lighting - the month before we moved anything in which was a great help.

A local company was hired to move most of the items over on April 4. It was a very long day, but the job was completed.

Boxes were opened and items sorted over the next couple of days. This meant most of the set up at the new location was able to be completed before the office officially moved on May 1.

Now that the new location was set up as much as possible it was back to 503 University Avenue to finish the cleaning and downsizing.

A number of items were sold on Facebook marketplace, some kitchen items were given to Canoe Cove Christian Camp, a couple of dates were set for sale days and resident furniture was pre-sold for closing day pick up. What didn't sell was offered to various organizations. A clean up day was set for cleaning up the yard, which still had some debris from Hurricane Fiona and a local company was hired to clean up the last of the trees and branches that came down during Fiona.

A couple of building issues came up that needed to be taken care of just a couple of days before the closing date. A small leak started in the boiler room so one last call was made to our 'boiler guy'. The issue was diagnosed and with some coordination between him, the asbestos removal company, MCC and the buyers the issue was able to be resolved a couple of days after the closing date. A leak in the sink in the kitchen required a call to the plumbers but thankfully it was a quick and easy fix once they arrived the morning before the closing date.

The move out day for the office and residents was April 30. Residents were out by 11am and the furniture was moved to the chapel for pick-up. The rest of the day was spent cleaning the dorm rooms and any common areas that couldn't be cleaned until everyone was moved out. Any resident furniture that had not yet sold was loaded into a U-haul to be sold over the next few weeks.

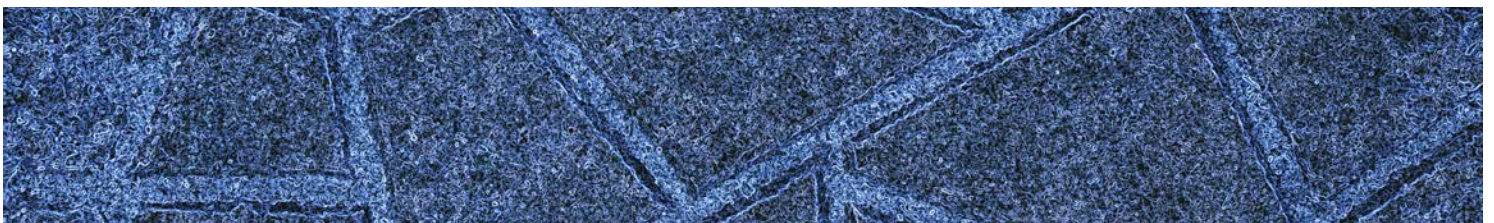

The last few items from the server room were packed early May 1. The final walk through was completed and the papers were signed, though there had been a couple of issues to deal with, the overall process went very smoothly. We're very thankful to those who were able to give some of their time and abilities to help out where they could.

The following week, those who attended the KT Norris Lectures at Sherwood Christian Church were given the opportunity to see the new MCC space downstairs.

It will take several months to finish sorting, logging and digitizing all the items in the archives. KT Norris kept a lot, MCC has been given items over the years from churches that have closed, and MCC has had 60+ years to accumulate records. It continues to be an interesting look back through the history.

The office is open Wednesdays from 9am to 4pm for those looking to stop in, or an appointment can be made for other times. The rest of the week office staff work from home.
